COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Students will gain knowledge in pathophysiology, physical assessment and intervention related to exercise capacity, mobility and function. Conditions that affect function due to limitations or variation in gas exchange will be covered, whether they be primarily cardiac, respiratory, neurological or musculoskeletal. The emphasis will be on conditions that occur in adulthood and that affect primarily a single body system. Includes a clinical skills/lab component.

DUTIES:

Responsibilities will be largely centred on the clinical skills laboratory sessions most weeks of the course, on Friday afternoons from 3:30 pm to 5:30 p.m. with occasional labs from 1:30 pm to 5:30 pm. and participation in the Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE) from approximately 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m on May 26th, 2023. Other duties may include additional academic functions such as marking, tutorials or course material development. Teaching a theory session in your area of expertise may be an option and can be discussed in advanced with the course coordinator. If you have any questions, please contact the course instructor, Avery Michels, for more details at 0am89@queensu.ca. All in - person sessions will be conducted in accordance with Public Health guidelines.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Normally applicants must be registered with the College of Physiotherapists of Ontario, have two years (full-time equivalent) of clinical experience as a physical therapist, and experience and/or post graduate education for the relevant courses. Preference will be given to those who are members of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association.
