Applications are invited for a Term Adjunct position in the Doctor of Science in Rehabilitation and Health Leadership Program (DSc RHL), with responsibilities for 100% of course delivery of RHL 904 – Preparing Competitive Funding Proposals. This position is available from April 1 to August 31, 2024.

RHL 904 is a doctoral-level course with a maximum expected enrolment of 12 students. The course is offered in a blended-learning format and will require the Term Adjunct to attend in-person classes in Kingston on May 3 and 4, 2024. The rest of the course will be delivered online. The course is offered as a core course for students in the DSc (RHL) program. For more information about the responsibilities of this position please contact Dr. Janet Jull, Assistant Professor, School of Rehabilitation Therapy, at janet.jull@queensu.ca.

The successful candidate will have expertise in preparing different types of funding proposals (e.g., research, philanthropic, community foundation). Having completed a doctoral-level degree (e.g., PhD, EdD) will be considered an asset. The successful candidate will also have previous experience teaching at the graduate level; experience teaching in an online environment is preferred.

The course description follows:

RHL 904 (CR 3) Preparing Competitive Funding Proposals

Students will develop expertise in preparing different types of funding proposals (e.g., research, philanthropic, community foundation). Students will integrate knowledge related to critical literature review, research methods, strategic communications, and budgeting to prepare competitive funding applications.
