Applications are invited for a Term Adjunct position in the Occupational Therapy Program, with responsibilities in OT 823 Disability Theory. OT 823 is a first-year 1.5 credit course offered online with an expected enrolment of 70 students. The incumbent will be required to prepare and utilize course materials using onQ. This is a fall term appointment for the period August 1 to December 31, 2023. If you have any questions about the course, please contact Dr. Setareh Ghahari, Associate Director (Occupational Therapy Program), at otcchair@queensu.ca for more information.

The successful candidate will have a degree in occupational therapy and be eligible for registration in the College of Occupational Therapists of Ontario and at least three years of clinical or administrative experience in occupational therapy practice, with expertise in development of communication skills. A Master’s degree is required. The incumbent(s) will be responsible for course coordination, instruction, student evaluation and coordination of teaching assistants. For more information about the responsibilities of this position please contact Dr. Setareh Ghahari, Associate Director (Occupational Therapy), School of Rehabilitation Therapy at otcchair@queensu.ca.

The course description follows:

OT 823 Disability Theory (1.5 CR)
This course introduces the concepts of disability, citizenship and societal participation. Conceptual frameworks of disability and issues and implications of disability will be discussed along with Canadian health and social policies relating to people with disabilities.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is strongly committed to employment equity, diversity, and inclusion in the workplace and encourages applications from Black, racialized/visible minority and Indigenous/Aboriginal people, women, persons with disabilities, and 2SLGBTQ+ persons. The academic staff at Queen’s University is governed by a Collective Agreement (CA) between the Queen’s University Faculty Association and the University which is posted at https://www.queensu.ca/facultyrelations/qufa/collective-agreements-lous-moas. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that considers an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during this process, please contact: Sandra Turcotte, Administrative Manager at: turcotte@queensu.ca.

Applications will be received until June 12, 2023. Review of applications will commence shortly thereafter, and the final appointment is subject to budgetary approval. Additional information about the School of Rehabilitation Therapy can be found at https://rehab.queensu.ca/. Please send applications and supporting documentation directly to: Sandra Turcotte, Administrative Manager at: turcotte@queensu.ca.